

Recovery Housing For Rural America

AN EFFECTIVE, SELF-SUSTAINING MODEL THAT PAYS FOR ITSELF

WHERE IT'S FROM

The model promoted by the Fletcher Group Rural Center of Excellence is based on the Recovery Kentucky program launched by Dr. Ernie Fletcher when Governor of Kentucky. Called a model "Evidence-Based Program" by SAMHSA, its 17 facilities have helped thousands of Kentuckians rebuild their lives while saving millions in taxpayer dollars.

WHAT IT CAN DO FOR YOU

By combining evidence-based treatments with a debt-free, self-sustaining housing model, the Fletcher Group's "Recovery Ecosystem" approach to recovery housing may be rural Kentucky's best shot at breaking the cycle of dependency so that lives can be rebuilt, families reunited, and rural communities restored to full health and prosperity.
